I. Introduction

1. The present report is the twenty-fifth consolidated report on the United Nations Register of Conventional Arms issued by the Secretary-General since the establishment of the Register.[1] The General Assembly, in its resolution 71/44, called upon Member States to provide, on an annual basis, data and information on international transfers of conventional arms covered by the Register, including nil reports, and invited them to provide additional background information on military holdings and procurement through national production of arms.

2. The General Assembly also called upon Member States to submit their views on the continuing operation of the Register and its further development, including on whether the absence of small arms and light weapons as a main category in the Register has limited its relevance and directly affected decisions on participation, by completing the questionnaire that was dispatched by the Office for Disarmament Affairs. Furthermore, the General Assembly requested the Secretary-General to continue to assist Member States to build capacity to submit meaningful reports, and encouraged States in a position to do so to provide assistance for this purpose upon request, including capacity to report on small arms and light weapons using the seven plus one formula.

3. On 20 February 2017, the Secretariat sent a note verbale to Member States requesting them to submit their reports and circulating the questionnaire referred to in paragraph 6 (a) of General Assembly resolution 71/44. A subsequent note verbale was sent to Member States on 12 June 2017, followed by a reminder to national points of contact on 20 July 2017. The replies received are reproduced in sections II to V. Any national reports and additional information received from Governments after the issuance of the report will be made available in the online database.

4. The percentage of Member States using the online reporting tool to file their national reports with the Register has risen from 20 per cent in 2012, when the tool was introduced, to 46 per cent in 2017.

5. The original submissions by Member States are available to Governments from the Office for Disarmament Affairs.[2] The annual reports and other relevant information are available on the website of the Register.[3]

6. As at the date of submission of the present report, the following Member States had submitted replies to the questionnaire circulated by the Office for Disarmament Affairs, pursuant to paragraph 6 (a) of General Assembly resolution 71/44: Finland, Germany, Italy, Romania, Slovakia, Turkey and Ukraine.[4]

V. Views received from Governments

Lebanon

[Original: Arabic]
[18 May 2017]

The Ministry of National Defence affirms that it does not engage in the transfer of conventional weapons, including small arms and light weapons. It has not imported any such weapons for over seven years. The Lebanese Army does not manufacture, produce or export any kind of weapons or ammunition. All of its weapons are imported or confiscated. There are no weapons of mass destruction present in Lebanon. Lebanon proposes that not just conventional weapons, but also weapons of mass destruction should be included in the United Nations Register.
